

The Nook

Feock

Feock, Truro, TR3 6RG

Located in the heart of Feock, this enchanting Grade II Listed thatched cottage has been sensitively restored to celebrate its historic character. Rich in period detail and brimming with charm, this exquisite home offers warm and bespoke interiors, just moments from the tranquil waters of the Carrick Roads.

The Location

Situated at the head of the Carrick Roads, the sought-after village of Feock is centred around its picturesque church and enjoys a privileged setting on Cornwall's south coast. Just a short stroll away is the church and Loe Beach, with its watersports centre, café, slipway and moorings. From here, the tree-lined creeks and rivers of the Fal Estuary are directly accessible — celebrated as some of the finest day-sailing grounds in the UK.

The surrounding area abounds with scenic walks, including the woodland trails at nearby Trelissick, which wind along the banks of the River Fal. Loe Beach itself offers sailing, kayaking and dinghy launching, while the wider Carrick Roads host numerous sailing clubs, most notably at Mylor Harbour — Cornwall's premier boating hub. For land-based leisure, golf can be enjoyed at Truro and Falmouth, while excellent primary schools are close at hand in Devoran and Kea.

Only four miles away, Truro serves as Cornwall's commercial and cultural heart, with excellent shopping, a choice of private and state schooling, and a mainline rail link to London Paddington. Around nine miles to the south, the vibrant university town of Falmouth offers a lively mix of restaurants, quayside bars, galleries and sub-tropical gardens, along with safe sandy beaches and access to the South West Coast Path leading towards Swanpool, Maenporth and the unspoilt Helford River.

The Roseland Peninsula also lies within easy reach via the iconic King Harry Ferry, where celebrated coastal villages including St Mawes, Portscatho, Veryan, Carne and Pendower provide outstanding opportunities for sailing, dining, walking and beachside relaxation.
